How To Use Our Service Correctly

Our model essays and dissertations are learning aids to help improve your understanding of a topic. It is no different to your tutor showing you exactly how to answer a question. You should use your model answer as a guide to producing your own work, looking up the material the writer has used and developing your own ideas and arguments. We do not condone plagiarism and you should not be tempted to hand in the work as your own. Doing so would be a disservice to yourself and will prevent you from acquiring the knowledge you need to pass your course.

Is It Cheating?

Purchasing our product does not make you a cheat. In fact, it could make all the difference in helping you achieve the grades you deserve. By using our model answers service, we will furnish you with an accurate study guide/model essay, in a format that is no different to using journals, articles or any other information that your own tutor may provide. The work is not designed to be submitted but used as a basis for your own further research, helping you build on your knowledge to create your own original work.
